

Alphabet Rhyme

a is for apple so juicy and sweet,

b is for boots you put on your feet.

c is for cap that keeps off the sun,

d is for dogs that bark, jump, and run.

e is for elephant with a long nose and short tail,

f is for feathers you find on a quail.

g is for games that you like to play,

h is for hands that you wash everyday.

i is for infant who's learning to talk,

j is for jewel—a bright, shiny rock.

k is for kitten who pounces on strings,

l is for lips that help you to sing.

m is for melon—a sweet, juicy treat,

n is for napkin that helps you stay neat.

o is for octagon—a shape with eight sides,

p is for pony that takes you on rides.

q is for quilt mother lays on your bed,

r is for roses in yellow, pink, and red.

s is for stars that twinkle at night,

t is for truck so shiny and bright.

u is for umbrella. It keeps you dry in the rain,

v is for violets that grow in the lane.

w is for wind that blows off your hat,

x is for Felix—the name of my cat.

y is for yarn in a sweater for you, and

z is for zebra you see in a zoo.

